Grain values railled in yesterday's market, and this in face of the fact that the belated statistical news which should have been received Monday was all bearish, Opening prices were easy, but before the end of the first hour there was a sharp reac ion, which carried options well above the previous day's closing figures. There was an unexpectedly large increase in the visible supply and cabled prices were easy, but the rank and file of operators seemed to believe that there had been considerable overseiling on Tuesday's recession. There were also other causes for a change in trading sentiment. Local receipts were light and there was renewed talk of drought in the outhwestern portion of the winter belt. This led to an increase in both the cash and speculative inquiries. A falling off in the price of British consols afforded excuse for the revival of the war scare, and as a last clinching bull argument it was reported that Armour was again on the buying side in Chicago, and the actions of his brokers indicated that the leader of the longs was again in the market for another rise.

Light offerings and small receipts strengthened the corn market, and prices were further aided by the advance in wheat. While the volume of trading was not large,

Dec. wheat opened 4c off and closed ic up. Dec. corn opened 5c up and closed 5c up.

Dec. cats closed unchanged. Receipts of produce were moderate and prices of fruits and vegetables were steady. Local securities were active and generally firm. Tractions and industrial issues were in best demand. steady between 415 and 6 per cent. Spot cotton was unchanged in the local market.

There were disquieting rumors of a clash between England and Russia on the Afghanistan boundary and a consequent weakening of British consols. Local receipts were light and Armour was it the close was decidedly bullish.

COTTON MARKET TURNS EASIER AFTER OPENING.

Trading in New York Almost Entirely Local, the Net Decline Being 3 to 8 Points.

New York, Nov. 16.-The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 2 points in response to a pretty set of Liverpool cables.

The absence of fresh business gave the bears an opportunity to force the market off, and after the first few minutes, during off, and after the first few minutes, during which the prices of practically all options sold about even with the close of the previous night, the market turned easier.

Trading was almost entirely local. After declining to a net loss of about 668 points, the market steadled slightly a room covering promoted by the large profits.
